"The highest of distinctions is service toward others." Throughout our high school years, Mr. and Mrs. Ferry have been dedicating themselves to serving our class. Now we in turn may express our gratitude and loyalty by dedicating a part of ourselves -- our yearbook -- to them. Through this dedication we wish to acknowledge and thank Mr. and Mrs. Ferry for the help, guidance, and friendship they have shown to us in the past four years. As this yearbook is our final contribution to Littleton High School, so is this dedication a farewell tribute, a combined thank-you, and a sincere hope for a happy future from the Class of 1964 to Mr. and Mrs. Ferry.

Administration

Mr. Cobb received his Bachelor of Arts and Masters Degrees from the University of Maine. After serving three years as a Mathematics teacher and three as the principal in Washburn, Maine, he came to Littleton in 1955 as the principal. He became the superintendent in 1957.

Mr. Whitcomb, who received his B. S. at the University of Massachusetts in 1948 and his A. M. at Boston University in 1949, came to Littleton High School in 1957. Acting as the assistant principal, he also taught Math, Science, Physics, and Conversational French. He became the principal in 1959.

Mr. Bailey, our assistant principal, graduated from Keene State College, Keene, New Hampshire. As principal in Antrim, New Hampshire, for two years, he also taught Social Studies and coached basketball. Before coming here this past September, he was principal of grades one through twelve for three years in Ashland, New Hampshire. He is married and has two children.

Student Council

The Student Council is Littleton High School's attempt to achieve a democratic government. The Council, composed of representatives elected from each grade, has grown steadily in the past years, and continues to grow in strength and dignity. The Council sponsors many worthwhile activities, including the student-faculty meeting, dances, and assemblies. This year this important body is especially proud of its successful school store, and the plaque dedicated to the late Mrs. Walker. As our school grows in size, so our Student Council grows in service.

"Waiting for a tour"

THE U. N. TRIP

At six o'clock on October 25, a group of sleepy and excited Seniors gathered at the Town House. Six fun-filled hours later, we reached our destination--the United Nations Building in New York. After being briefed by a Russian delegate, we had an hour of free time, during which we sat in on a meeting of the General Assembly at which the President of Bolivia spoke. Our visit was concluded by a tour of the building and grounds. Then it was back on the bus for the return trip.

Stratford

September 27th is a memorable day to all of those Seniors who participated in the trip to Stratford, Connecticut's Shakespearean Festival. KING LEAR was brilliantly staged by a seasoned repertory company.

Schools from four states attended the performance, and a good time was had by all.

Our Advisors Remember

The day Butch discovered he was a heretic.
The day that Philip repeated the salute to the flag when all the rest of the class was saying the Lord's Prayer.
The day Stuart refused to read the Bible.
The day Eddie Carrow discovered he was a wolf and not the class clown.
The day that Carole and Sonja decided that they did not like the "she bear."
The day the class discovered that Michael Stoffel was a member of the human race.
The day Andrea didn't chew gum!
The day Billy decided that Cheryl was a doll.
The day that Stephen received his first business lesson.
The day Nancy Smith discovered she had a nice figure.
The day Patty Dodge decided to finish high school.
The day that Billy stole my dictionary because he was afraid of Mrs. Farwell.
The day Sandy Fichtner had an argument with Dickie Flagg.
The day Kathy Dusti stopped giggling--she had the hiccups.
The day Butch told his Advertising Comm. to make some posters for the Prom.
The day Donna Conrad discovered those big, brown eyes of hers.
The day Mike Stoffel got mad at me.
The day Stuart discovered his parents were his biggest problem.
The day Butch found out that he had a part in the Senior Play.
The day that the girls discovered that Dickie Flagg was handsome.
The day Teddy Carroll told a certain teacher to get out of his light.
The day Billy Contini learned the meaning of the word altruism and lost his shoe.
The look on David B.'s face the day the score was: Acton-23, Littleton-2.
The day I saw the twinkle in Mary Frances' eye--Sonja and Carole were having a spat.
The day Butch tried to wear Billy Contini's trousers.
The day Joanne was not "mad at" Carol or Irene.
The day that Jimmy Cande bought his yearbook.
The night that Kenny got tired on the basketball court.
The day Johnny Landell lost his belligerence.
The day Stephen decided that music wasn't the only career in the world.
The day Butch found out that he was not a first baseman.
The day Sonja decided to stop working on the boys.
The day Andrea told me that she was not going-steady.
The day Billy Contini decided to do some school work.
The day Robert Trepanier learned his lines for the Senior Play.
The day Dickie Sheldon realized that he wasn't Frankie Fontaine.
The day I discovered that Moulder Vac had been dissolved by order of Col. Bolinger.
The day I discovered Terry had a sense of humor.
The day Dickie Flagg told the homeroom where to get off.
The day Dotti Duggan arrived.
The look of surprise on Linda Keir's face when I informed her she had a brain.
The day I loaned Bibeault fifty cents--I'm still looking for the day when I'll get it back.
The day I discovered that Peter was a reformed person.
The day I discovered that Bill Stewart was an asset to the class.
The day Andrea discovered I was not a Civil War Veteran, but just a Spanish War veteran.
The day Billy lost his control.
The day I saw Regina get mad.
The day I discovered Linda Chase knew how to be a lady.
The day that Philip got a D- not to mention Michael's Economics.

Senior Class Will

FERY ABDOLLAHYAN leaves Mr. Andrews the answers to all the Advanced Math problems.

MARCIA ADAMS leaves her quiet ways to Arlene Sauler, who could use a few.

STEVE MARCUS leaves his ability to crash hen parties to Alan VanWinkle.

JOHN MASONE leaves his nap in Mr. Annaldo's class to Ray Gerbi.

LORRAINE NIXON leaves her forgiving nature to Beverly Lothrop.

RICK OLSEN leaves his surf board in the school store.

TERRY PORTANOVA leaves her black dress to the next girl who runs the mimeograph.

PETER POTTER leaves his ability to get into trouble to Glen Dillon, who doesn't really need it.

MARY SHANDO leaves her dribbling ability to Cindy Wilder.

DICK SHELDON leaves his typing class, much to Miss Stewart's pleasure.

DEAN RICCI leaves his self-confidence to Tom (Roy the Boy) Hunt.

NANCY SMITH leaves leading-lady roles to next year's actress.

BILL STEWART leaves his knowledge of Acton to Marion Caldwell.

MIKE STOFFEL leaves the library. (Now maybe Mrs. Evans will have peace and quiet).

IRENE SULLIVAN leaves the boa constrictor, much as she hates to.

BOBBY TREPANIER leaves his red mohair sweater to Teddy Maher.

LOIS TREPANIER leaves her ability to look after her cousin to Joan Hunt, who has two cousins to care for, poor dear.

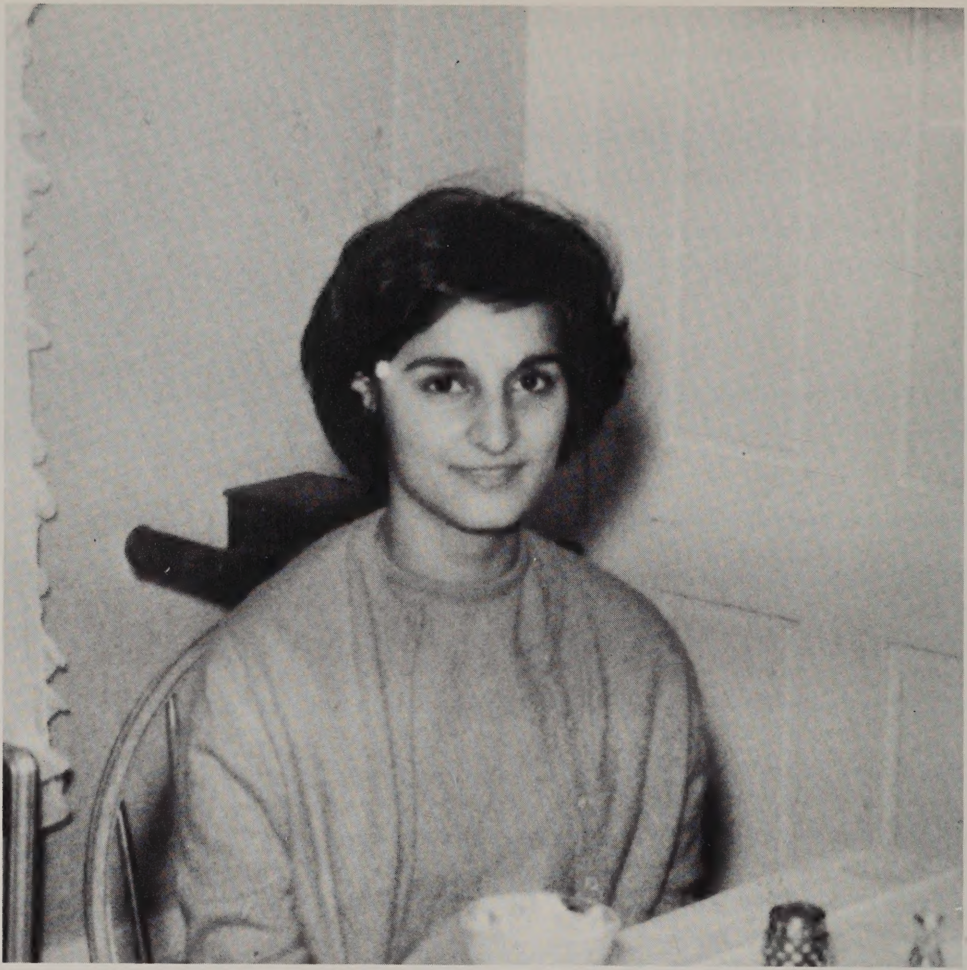
BOBBY URBACH leaves his good grades to Tommy Mc Niff.

ROSALYN VanWINKLE leaves, and Mr. Gardner still can't remember her name.

CALVIN YAPP leaves his super-powered truck to Walter Buckheit.

SHARI HOBENSACK leaves her bill at Dominic's unpaid.

DAVE BRADBURY leaves his curve ball to some eighth-grade hopeful.



FATEMEH ABDOLLAHYAN

This year we have been privileged to have with us at Littleton High School Fery Abdollahyan, who is representing her country of Iran. Although Fery is the fifth A.F. S'er Littleton High has had, she is the first girl. Through her pleasant ways and cheerful personality, she has captured a special place in our hearts. Fery has enabled us to understand her country and its people better. We hope that her stay here has been as enriching and profitable for her as it has been for us.
